

AUTUMN LEAVES® OFFERS FREE RESPITE CARE DURING NOVEMBER
Caregiver Relief program honors National Family Caregivers Month

IRVING, Texas (Oct. 26, 2016) – Autumn Leaves, a national leader in residential memory care, recognizes the emotional, physical and financial impact of serving as a primary caregiver, and will honor those who care for loved ones with its second annual Caregiver Relief program during November, which is National Family Caregivers Month.

Autumn Leaves communities throughout the nation will offer family caregivers up to three days of free respite care (based on assessment and availability) in a safe, secure, loving, and engaging environment. The program is also being extended to Autumn Leaves employees for their own families.

“Serving as a primary caregiver is a selfless, 24/7 job, and most caregivers have jobs outside the home and other family responsibilities,” said Bob Enloe, vice president of health and wellness at The LaSalle Group, Inc., parent company of Autumn Leaves. “We understand what they go through and want to support their well-being by offering them what they need most – a little time off for themselves.”

In 2014 alone, 15.7 million caregivers provided more than 17.9 billion hours of unpaid care valued at $217.7 billion, according to a recent study by the Alzheimer’s Association.
